

ASB has cultural day tomorrow

By Pat Mata

In spite of all the editorials that have been written on the subject of campus apathy and funky activities activities, there is finally a day to end the controversy. Tomorrow should be called "Homecoming Day" for the day-long activities and exhibits that have been planned to bring the community of Salinas back to Hartnell.

According to Associated Student Body Vice President Gerald Hunsucker, fellow commissioner Melanie Wong thought up the idea of having a Cultural Fair way before it was finally taken seriously. Now, with the aid of 30 entries by campus clubs, artists and craftsmen, the Cultural Fair is no longer a deflating daydream.

Despite the self-cancellation of the belly dancer show; 121 squares at 10x10 spaces each will contain a karate exhibition, Indian jewelry, pottery, paintings, and a 20 foot sailboat plus other displays.

The Fair will open at 9 a.m. From 10 to 10:30, a children's Magic Show presented by the Great Roge' will be in the Little Theatre. The Great Roge' is also known as Mark Rogers, a disc jockey at radio station KKEE.

In the Amphitheatre from 10:30 to High Noon, both the Hartnell Band and Stage Band will perform, hopefully beneath the sun.

A Magic Show for Grown-Ups will be staged by the Great Roge' from 1 to 2:30 in the Little Theatre. From 2:30 until 5, two plays by the Drama Club, music by Dr. Larsen and Jim and Shirley Cisco and by the Pete Trevino Band will be featured in the Amphitheatre.

To end the daytime festivities, the Great Roge' will perform his bizarre Mental Act. The Utah Symphony, portraying the big red cherry atop such a parfait day, appears in concert inside the new Performing Arts Center.

There is enough activity here to keep Tom Cherne busy.

Walkathon tomorrow

It's going to be a family affair tomorrow when hundreds of people, get together at Alisal High School to begin their 25 mile walk for the March of Dimes fight against birth defects.

"The walk is really beginning to take shape," says Fred Rimando, who is the volunteer chairman of the walk. "The community is definitely taking a strong part in this event."

Registration is from 7 to 10 a.m.

produced 75 classical recordings which have sold over one million copies around the world. It is currently recording all of Tchaikovsky's orchestral works.

The concert will begin with a performance of the Toccata and Fugue in D minor by Johann Sebastian Bach and the Community Chorus, will join the orchestra during the Requiem. Dr. Vahe Aslan will conduct the combined choruses.
